Sir Robert Falconer, President,
University of Toronto

My dear Sir Robert,

I should like to present to you a plan to which I have been giving considerable thought for several years, involving an extension of the usefulness of the University. Heretofore I have not considered that the time was ripe for the best carrying out of this plan and it may be that even at the present moment it will not seem advisable to you and the Board of Governors to move in this matter. If you will kindly make an appointment, preferably on Wednesday or Friday, I should like to bring it to your attention

Yours very respectfully,

A. L. Parsons.
